Many companies use SAP Success Factors to manage their HR organisation.

With SAP SuccessFactors, you can run the following:

- Employee Central
- Recruiting
- Learning
- Performance and Goals
- Succession and Development

SAP SuccessFactors meets global HR needs, but the HR team needs faster problem-solving and process improvement. They recognised the value of expert support to make the most of the platform.

The challenge

Finding the right support is not easy. Not all consultants cover your expectations and align with your business values.

Is not only about finding a matching support. You are looking for a partnership that helps you solve your problems and maintains the trust of your people and customers.

Certain partners may make a strong first impression but fail to please customers. Others, even with modest marketing budgets, excel in project delivery.

Before selecting the right consulting partner, it's important to know the problems you want to solve.

To help you out, there is a platform called Raven Intelligence. It guides customers in making an informed choice about their consulting partner.

According to customer reviews, Raven Intelligence has identified the top 6 regrets:

- Lack of professionalism, as data wasn't cleaned up before implementation
- The team changed over, causing project delivery delays
- Not doing a thorough evaluation of the partner
- Not enough change management
- Integration was harder than anticipated, meaning an absence of transparency
- Executive stakeholders are not engaged and supportive

What are you looking for?

Professionalism

You want to work with someone that can make your job easier. You need experts that know how to optimise your data and campaigns.

No waste of time and money

How can you stay on time and budget for your campaigns and achieve goals? You need a proactive team that supports you from the start to the end of your project.

Transparency and flexibility

You desire transparency, flexibility, and a long-term relationship with trustful people. You want to receive the exact service you signed up for. Working with genuine people and keeping the trust for future projects is what you aim for.

Personalised learning activities

You want to enhance your SAP SuccessFactors Learning. The goal is to elevate your employee's learning experience. Your people seek accessible, personalised, and interactive learning content. With excellent knowledge comes better results. With the right learning support, you can compete in the market.
